Lawrence Township Approves ETS Plan To Build and Lease

The long struggle between Educational Testing Service and Lawrence Township over the testing company's expansion plans seems to be at an end.

Last Thursday, by a vote of 4 to 1, the Lawrence Township Council approved an amendment to the land development ordinance that allows ETS to build up to 1.5 million square feet of office space and to rent out unused space until it is needed for ETS use. Councilwoman Carol Harle cast the single "nay" vote, while Mayor Richard Hocking, Deputy Mayor Michael Loyack and Councilmen Leon Colavita and Harold Vereen approved the amendment. A two-thirds vote was required for adoption, rather than a simple majority, because 36 property owners owning 20 percent of the land in the affected Environmental Protection zone had filed a protest against adoption of the amendment.

Following the vote, the Lawrence Township Council introduced an amendment to the just-adopted amendment stipulating that tenants must occupy at least 10,000 square feet of office space. Neighbors have been concerned that the ability to rent out space would turn the property into a commercial development with little or no control over traffic and other impacts.

The vote on this amendment was also 4 to 1, with Ms. Harle again casting the single negative vote. The first amendment was one of the stipulations in the settlement agreement between ETS and Lawrence Township to end litigation brought by the testing concern to protest the Township's 1989 land development ordinance limiting the floor area ratio (FAR) in the Environmental Protection zone to .07. this would have limited ETS to one million square feet

SUMMER PURSUITS TO GIVE WAY TO SCHOOL: Those carefree summer days are almost over for three 12-year-old Plainsboro boys, seen fishing recently in the D&R Canal off the Alexander Street bridge. Nick Costanzo, Adam Ford and Eric Suskin will be starting school next week. (Linda Prospero photo)

Parking Variance, Medical Center B-Wing on Planning Board Agenda

The Planning Board will review the request of Friends Inc. for a parking variance for the ICBIY (I Can't Believe It's Yogurt!) shop when it meets on Wednesday, September 5, at 7:30 in the Valley Road building meeting room.

Also on the agenda is Princeton Medical Center's application for preliminary and final site plan approval for the replacement of the B-wing with a five-story structure connected to the J-wing. A concept review of these plans was held in early August. If time permits, the Planning Board is also scheduled to hear Princeton Theological Seminary's request for permission to expand its chiller plant.

The ICBIY shop is located on the ground floor of 80 Nassau Street, the former home of Nassau Pharmacy. The Friends Inc., which holds the lease to the franchise and rents the space, wants to reclassify the ICBIY shop from a retail store to "an eating and drinking establishment" by adding 11 tables and 40 seats. Customers would take their orders to a table, and there would be no waitress service.

The reclassification would require one parking space for every 400 square feet of floor area. Since there is no off-street parking available, a variance for four spaces would be needed. In reviewing the application, the Borough Historic Preservation Commission and the Planning Board's Site Plan Review have recommended that the variance be granted.

They suggest that the Friends install an outside trash receptacle similar in design to other receptacles on Nassau Street and that the operators agree to police their front sidewalk for litter. They also commend the Friends for purchasing employee parking in a nearby parking garage.

However, Borough President Marvin Reed, a member of the Planning Board, has written a five page memorandum to the other board mem-

2 Borough Homes Facing Charges of Zoning Violations

The question of whether the single-family house at 5 Greenholm is being used as a rooming house — as Borough zoning officials assert — or whether its occupants are simply house sitting while the owners are in China — is scheduled to be heard in Borough Municipal Court on September 10.

In another case involving zoning violations in the western section, Zoning Officer Frank Slimak has ruled that the single-family house at 34 Mercer Street — owned by The Nassau Foundation and housing Opus Dei — is also being used as a rooming/boarding house. A representative of Opus Dei's Mercer House is expected to appeal this ruling Thursday night before the Borough Zoning Board of Adjustment.

In June, a notice of violation was sent to Lynn T. White — owner of 5 Greenholm and a professor at Princeton University — for developing the property without proper zoning approval. Receiving no response to the violation notice, a summons to court was issued soon afterwards, according to Assistant Zoning Officer Sean Burns.

Mr. Burns explained that Mr. White is allowed to rent a secondary residence (a cottage, which is rented), or may rent two rooms in the house to four people. "He can't do both, and that's what he is doing," said Mr. Burns. "He was first made aware of this in November, 1988.

Mr. Burns is uncertain how many people are currently living in 5 Greenholm, but believes it is now five. During a June 4 inspection of the house, Mr. Burns saw a complete kitchen, four bedrooms and a bathroom on the third floor; and six locked rooms and a bathroom on the second floor. "The basement also appeared to be used as habitable space," he said.

The Borough is basing its case on several cancelled rent checks made out to Mr. White. Also, a card noting that rooms, at $375 a

Lawrence Man Is Held In Locker Room Taping

A 38-year-old Lawrence Township resident was still being held in a Township jail cell Tuesday morning, after he was arrested Saturday for videotaping boys inside a men's locker room at the Community Park Pool complex in the Township.

George A. Quattrone, 38, of Van Kirk Road, detained in lieu of $10,000 bail set by Judge Kevin McGrory, was scheduled to be arraigned later in the day in Mercer County Superior Court. He has been charged by Township police here with endangering the welfare of children. Assistant Mercer County Prosecutor Loni Hand reports that Quattrone will also be charged with lewdness.

Quattrone was first

ETS

of office space on its 370-acre property between Rosedale and Carter Roads.

ETS wanted an FAR of .10, which would allow 1.5 million square feet of space at full build-out. ETS currently occupies 549,000 square feet of office space. In 1988, ETS received Planning Board permission to add 447,000 square feet. That permission also was obtained through a settlement agreement in which ETS agreed to a series of traffic management measures and staging of construction in accordance with the effectiveness of the measures. Another 500,000 square feet of office space is possible now that the land development ordinance has been amended in respect to ETS land.

The most recent settlement also dealt with the single-user ordinance adopted by the Lawrence Township Council in 1987 and re-adopted in 1988. ETS sought to have the ordinance overturned in the court. Earlier this summer, Mercer County Superior Court Judge Paul G. Levy ruled that the ordinance was "discriminatory and invalid."

In the settlement, ETS agreed to lease space to similar users who conduct educational or research activities, or to companies that involve scientific investigation, engineering study and product development. It also agreed to a minimum square footage that would be rented to a single tenant, the subject of the second amendment introduced last week.

Negative Impact

In explaining her vote, Ms. Harle said she thought the settlement agreement benefitted ETS but did not benefit Lawrence Township as a whole. "What we got is a negative impact on the environment," Ms. Harle said. "I see a massive traffic problem in the area." Also disappointed in the outcome were the many residents of North Lawrence who had attended countless meetings and expended hundreds of dollars in an attempt to block ETS expansion. Their most recent actions were to appeal Judge Levy's ruling on the single ordinance and to protest the changes in the land development ordinance called for in the settlement agreement.

The residents maintained that the company had been granted conditional use authorization in the 1950s to build a corporate headquarters in a rural, residential area, but additional construction would bring additional traffic and other unwanted impacts to the area. They said that if ETS needed to expand it should do so elsewhere.

While waiting for the legal knots to be resolved, ETS entered into an agreement with the developer of the Carnegie Center for construction of up to five buildings. Ground has been broken on the first two buildings, totalling 270,710 square feet, and a third structure, projected at 129,900 square feet, is planned for completion in the fall of 1991.

ETS plans to consolidate employees from space it rents in Ewing Township and in Pennsylvania. The firm has also said it would be hiring an additional 500 employees to meet its commitments over the next five years.

Variance

bers advising against granting the parking variance. Mr. Reed says he disagrees with the Borough Zoning Officer's finding that there would be no adverse impact on traffic safety if the variance is granted.

"This proposed restaurant is to be located on one of the busiest blocks in the downtown area," he writes. "There are hardly ever vacant metered parking places on the streets nearby." Citing two other fast food uses on the block he says that the addition of a third "compounds the excessive parking and traffic problems along the block."

He also objects to the Planning Board circumventing a Borough ordinance which says that the Zoning Board may grant parking relief only if there is a parking facility within 400 feet of the property. In conclusion he says, "Ignoring ordinance requirements may encourage a proliferation of fast food shops and restaurants to take the place of retail stores in a downtown area already entangled by excessive traffic and inadequate parking."

There are two other applications on file at the Planning Board which could be affected by how the board decides this one. Jeffrey A. Shofield of Hampton wants to operate a Subway Sandwiches and Salads franchise next to Dunkin' Donuts in the former gas station at Hulfish and Witherspoon Street. The application states that although the ordinance requires off-street parking, most customers do not drive to Subway Sandwiches and Salads shops.

The owners of Abel Bagel at 32 Witherspoon Street have applied for permission to construct a delicatessen with seating in the space next door that is currently occupied by The Lodge. The application states that the board can grant parking relief in this case because there are two parking garages within 400 feet.

Planning Board review of the Medical Center application also involves parking issues. The Medical Center seeks a variance for 43 spaces, claiming that at least this much space is available in its parking garage on any given day.

"Close Belle Mountain," Says County Official

Mercer County Park Commission Executive Director Frank Ragazzo last week told the Board of County Freeholders that Mercer County's Belle Mountain Ski Area should be closed because weather conditions make it impossible to predict if there will be sufficient snow to run the facility efficiently.

He said the limited amount of natural snow, along with the expense of making artificial snow, are primary reasons for closing the facility. Belle Mountain, the southernmost ski area in the State, is located on Valley Road in Hopewell Township.

Republican Freeholder Carolyn Bronson, who had called for shutting Belle Mountain down, said she would sponsor a resolution in two weeks to close the facility. Whether her resolution would gain the four votes necessary for passage is unclear.

About $30,000 in unbudgeted funds for the repair and purchase of snow-making equipment would be necessary in order to open this season.

Monitoring Well Needed

The State Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has ordered that a well be installed to monitor the level of ground-water contamination caused by years of leaks and spills from snow-making equipment, according to Mr. Ragazzo.

Last spring, after a DEP inspection of the ski area, 450 cubic yards of contaminated soil was removed. The soil has yet to be disposed of. The DEP's inspection came after it received complaints from area residents.

The cost of drilling a well is estimated at $5,380, said Mr. Ragazzo, who added that there is no guarantee DEP would permit the ski area to open. He said the water would have to be tested and the DEP given the results. "Then they'll tell us what the next step is," he told the Board of Freeholders.

Belle Mountain, the State's only county-operated ski area, was open for 40 days and was used by 8,941 skiers, said Mr. Ragazzo, The County lost $161,000 operating the facility.

Unless officials could get Park Commission employees to work on a seasonal basis, however, the savings to the County would be minor, said Republican Freeholder Robert Prunetti and Mr. Ragazzo. The Park Commission executive director added, "Last year, not including salaries, which we have to pay anyway, it cost us $96,000 to run the ski area, and we brought in $114,000."

Use of Menendez Tapes Admissible Rules Panel

A three-judge panel of the 2nd District Court of Appeals in California last week upheld an earlier Superior Court decision that ordered the release of taped conversations between Lyle and Erik Menendez and their psychologist.

The panel cited a case in which the California Supreme Court had ruled that privileged conversations between a psychologist and a patient can be revealed if the psychologist believes the patient is a danger to himself or others and "that disclosure of the communication is necessary to prevent the threatened danger."

The panel then stayed its ruling for ten days to give defense attorneys for the brothers time to make an appeal to the state Supreme Court. The defense has consistently tried to prevent the release of conversations that were taped over a three-month period by psychologist Leon J. Oziel — reportedly with the brothers' permission — from being used in the murder trial.

Both Lyle, 22, and Erik 19, who attended Princeton Day School, have been charged with the shotgun slaying of their parents, Jose and Kitty

Vincent Gregg Is 100

Vincent Gregg, who has lived in the same house at 3 Madison Street since 1926, celebrated his 100th birthday on Tuesday. Born in Italy, he came here when he was 11 years old.

In 1906, he began working in the Biology Department of Princeton University, under Dr. Ulric Dahlgren. An assistant in biology, he taught students histology. He retired in 1956 after 50 years — and remained as a part-time employee another decade. His son Vincent Jr., who lives next door, worked at the University for 35 years before retiring — giving the Greggs, father and son, a total of 95 years with Princeton University.

Long active in the Princeton United Methodist Church — where he served on the Official Board and as financial secretary, and was an usher until two years ago — the senior Mr. Gregg will be honored with a reception at the church after services on Sunday, September 16.

Use of Route 1 Shoulder Approved by N.J. DOT

Transportatin Commissioner Tom Downs has approved the use of the shoulder for cars along Route 1 northbound between Fisher Place in West Windsor and Scudders Mill Road in Plainsboro between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m.

"This is the third section along Route 1 where the shoulder is used to increase roadway capacity," stated Mr. Downs.

"The Department has received a very positive response from Route 1 motorists concerning shoulder usage," he added.

The NJDOT will monitor the use of the shoulder as a riding lane to determine if changes in timing of traffic signals can improve traffic flow.

In preparation for the change, the Department will install signs and modify some traffic stripes between Fisher Place and Scudders Mill Road, a distance of approximately one mile.

Route 1 shoulder use has been permitted for cars only on weekdays northbound from 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. between Nassau Park Drive and Campus Drive, a distance of 2.8 miles, since September 25, 1989 and along a 2.3 mile southbound stretch between Alexander Road and the Nassau Park Jughandle since April 2 in West Windsor Township.

The Department has a $32.3-million project in design that will widen Route 1 from Quaker Bridge Road to Alexander Road. The project includes widening to six lanes with shoulders and an overpass at Alexander Road

Over 64,000 vehicles use Route 1 in this area in both directions during a 24-hour period.

Apartment Is Looted On Alexander Street

A resident of an Alexander Street apartment returned home Friday after being away for 12 days to find his rear door unlocked and the interior looted.

Stolen, police said, were two cassette recorders, a $1,000 stereo receiver, a VCR and an $800 color television set. Total loss: $2,900.

A home on Quaker Road was entered overnight last week by forcing a front window. Township police report that two color television sets worth a combined $755 and a portable AM/FM cassette player valued at $60 were stolen. Also a $15 remote control transmitter.

There was an attempted hurglary Friday night at a home on Alexander Street.

According to Lt. Mario Musso, the occupant was upstairs around 9:30 when she heard a noise in a rear bedroom. As she approached the doorway of the bedroom to investigate, she saw a black male, about 39, standing in the room.

The victim turned and ran downstairs to a neighbor's home where police were notified. Police checked the area but were unable to locate the suspect. Entry was gained by climbing a steel pole to the top of a shed where the suspect then walked to a window of the bedroom.

Police found a blood-stained man's T-shirt next to the pole, prompting Lt. Musso to comment that the suspect may have injured himself in his

Fields Medal Awarded To Institute Professor

Dr. Edward Witten, Clover Lane, a professor in the School of Natural Sciences at the Institute for Advanced Study, was awarded the Fields Medal, the most prestigious international award in mathematics, for his work in the field of high energy and string theory. Fields Medals are awarded once every four years by the International Congress of Mathematicians, held this year in Kyoto, Japan. The medal, which carries no monetary award, is regarded as the mathematics equivalent to the Nobel Prizes in the sciences.

The Fields medal was established, "in recognition of work already done and as an encouragement for further achievements on the part of the recipient."

Dr. Witten came to the Institute in 1987 from Princeton University, where he had been professor of physics since 1980. He received his B.A. degree from Brandeis University in 1971, and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton in 1975 and 1976 respectively. Before returning to Princeton for his professorship, he was a Junior Fellow in the Harvard Society of Fellows from 1977 to 1980.

Dr. Witten received a 1982 MacArthur Prize, 1985 Dirac Medal from the International center for Theoretical Physics, 1985 Einstein Medal from the Albert Einstein Society, 1985 Award for Physical and Mathematical Sciences from the New York Academy of Science and the 1986 Alan T. Waterman Award of the National Science Foundation.

Perfumes Are Purloined From Thrift Drug Store

Ninety-five bottles of women's perfume valued at $2,820 were stolen last week from the Thrift Drugs store in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The bottles, including such brands as Chanel, White Shoulders and Liz Claiborne, were taken from a cosmetic cabinet in front of the store. The cabinet had been forced open but there was no forced entry into the store itself, police said.

In the Borough, a 1986 Pontiac station wagon worth an estimated $7,000 was stolen between midnight and 7 a.m. last Wednesday from the driveway of a home on Boudinot Street. The keys were not in the ignition but had been left in the car.

"Someone apparently searching through the car came across the keys," said Capt. Thomas Michaud. Inside the car was a small amount of cash, tools, cassette tapes, a blanket and other items worth an additional $750.

Two Wallet Thefts

While a Cranbury resident was being tended to in an emergency treatment room last week at the Princeton Medical Center, someone removed her wallet from her purse, which the victim had left unattended for a short time. The $15 wallet contained $25 and credit cards.

In another wallet theft, a student at Westminster Choir College left her wallet after lunch in a room in Seabrook Hall. Stolen, it contained $105 and credit cards.

A telephone answering machine worth an estimated $50 was taken last week from an unlocked room in New Grad College on the University campus.

Four Bicycles Stolen

Four bicycles were reported stolen last week in the Borough.

An unlocked red mountain bike valued at $350 was taken from in front of Jay's Cycle on Nassau Street — it was owned by Jay's — and a blue, unlocked Sears model worth $100 was taken overnight from the side of a Moran Avenue house.

A $350 yellow mountain hike was stolen from outside the New Grad College building where it had been locked to a rack, and a man's Huffy model was taken from the plaza outside Firestone Library on the University campus where it had been locked to itself.

License Plate Larceny

Someone is stealing and collecting out-of-state license plates in Princeton.

Borough police report ten such plates were stolen last week from four different locations, and Township police listed the theft of four plates, three from out of state.

All the plates were taken overnight and all were rear plates, reported Capt. Michaud. Four were taken from cars parked in the Westminster Choir College lot, and two each from the University campus, Borough streets and behind eating clubs on Prospect Avenue. The stolen plates were from Rhode Island, Missouri, South Carolina, Virginia, Colorado, Tennessee, Texas, Michigan, Pennsylvania and California.

Lt. Musso reported that three of the four plates taken in the Township were from cars parked in the Westminster Choir College lot (Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey). A Florida plate was removed from a car parked near the Super Fresh Market in the Princeton Shopping Center. All of the victims were students, Lt. Musso said.

Township Man Charged With Drunken Driving

A Greenbrier Row resident has been charged by Township police with driving while intoxicated, after his car was stopped on Bunn Drive.

The driver, Balfour H. Merrill Jr., 41, was also charged with refusing to take a Breathalyzer test and with driving while his license was revoked. Later released, he faces a September 5 hearing in Township court.

Mr. Merrill was initially observed by Ptl. Scott Porreca driving on Witherspoon Street. He was known by the officer to have had his driving privilege revoked. A computer check with the Department of Motor Vehicles confirmed that.

After stopping the car, Ptl. Porreca detected a strong odor of alcohol and subsequently placed Mr. Merrill under arrest. At police headquarters, he refused to take a breath test.

In the Wake of Party: Disturbances by Teens

Borough police are trying to sort out what happened and Township police are looking for a suspect who allegedly waived a semi-automatic pistol around in the wake of a party this weekend at the Third World Center at Olden Street and Prospect.

"There was a disturbance. No question about it," confirmed Borough Capt. Thomas Michaud. "We know there was a dispute among several young teenagers. There are some allegations that one had a razor blade and one had a gun. We're still in the process of verifying the information."

Capt. Michaud said that Det. John Redding has been assigned to follow up the incident. "There are no clear facts," continued Capt. Michaud, who said that dozens of teenagers were in the area at the time.

"There were allegations and shouting matches; we're trying to sort it all out."

Township police received a call at 2:20 Saturday morning reporting an assault. Ptl. Stephan Hoganeamp responded and interviewed five female teenage victims.

They told police they were walking on Western Way when they were approached by six or seven black males. The victims said they were verbally threatened and that the youths were swinging large sticks in their direction.

According to Lt. Mario Musso, one of the supects, who was known to one of the victims, brandished a full-size, black semi-automatic pistol. "It was not pointed at any one person but waved in their direction," he said. Lt. Musso added that no one was struck by a stick and no specific verbal threat had been made.

The suspects, all wearing black sweat pants and black T-shirts, fled in an old, silver four-door vehicle.

Two of the victims are from Princeton, two from Hamilton Township and one from California. The ages of four ranged from 15 to 17 and the age of one was not clear.

Police Charge Three After Drinking Fight

Three Township residents have been charged with aggravated assault by Township police, following an incident early last week at a Carnahan Place home in which, police report, a half-dozen people were drinking.

Currently free on $1,000 bail each, awaiting a September 5 appearance in Township court, are Justino L. Prado, 31, of Leigh Avenue, and Roberto Rosales, 25, and Pedro Rosales, 21, both of Ewing Street. In addition, both Rosales have been charged with possession of a weapon for unlawful purposes.

As recounted by Lt. Mario Musso, the victim is a 20-year-old Township resident who had asked the three to leave the premises because of the hour. They did not want to leave, Lt. Musso said, and allegedly assaulted the victim.

"BONES" AND BULLDOG: Some people will do anything to get in shape. Princeton residents John Bonaparth (left) and Tom Hogan, to shed pounds, decided to initiate a two-man 10-mile race to motivate themselves. The two friends trained for three months, while collecting sponsor pledges for the Princeton Education Center at Blairstown camp program, which provides high adventure experiences for inner city kids. To date, the two-man race has raised over $6,000 with an anticipated endowment total of $10,000.

Free English Class

The Princeton YWCA has received a federal grant for Adult Basic Education, in the amount of $5,252, enabling it to offer a free program for individuals who speak little or no English.

Students will learn to speak, read and write basic English for work, shopping, and medical emergencies, and other real-life situations. The program is divided into two groups–beginning (for people who know no English) and continuing (for people who want to improve their English). Each group is limited to 20 students.

In person registration in the YWCA lobby is required and will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. The classes are Mondays and Wednesdays, September 5 through December 17, 7 to 9 p.m.

Call the YWCA at 497-2100 for more information.

One is alleged to have punched the victim in the head with his hands and fist. The other two punched him about the body and then took turns striking him with a 3½-foot bicycle chain lock.

The victim received contusions of the forehead and left side of the head, lacerations to his scalp and nose and a broken left pinky finger. He was treated at Princeton Medical Center.

An alert was put out for the three suspects. A short time later, a female resident of the same house on Carnahan Place told police that one of the suspects had passed out in her bedroom. He was arrested.

Ptl. Michael Bender of the Borough police observed the remaining suspects on the corner of Birch Avenue and Witherspoon Street. They appeared to be confused and intoxicated, he said.

One, Roberto Rosales, had a cut on the back of his neck; his shirt was soaked with blood. He told police he had been cut with a broken beer bottle in an unrelated incident. He refused medical aid. Police found the bicycle chain lock stuffed inside his trousers.

All three suspects were placed under arrest and taken to headquarters where bail of $10,000 with a 10 percent option was set by acting Township Judge Robert Yostembski.

Lt. Musso reported that a closer look at Rosales' neck laceration at headquarters revealed it to be a severe cut and he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

The incident took place last Sunday evening.

Princeton Physician Will Be Involved with Innovative Trial Of the Effects of Cholesterol Reduction on Heart Patients

The University of Chicago Medical Center has recognized the work of Princeton Doctor John Seed through an agreement to carry out an innovative clinical trial of the effects of radical cholesterol reduction on patients with established heart disease.

The medical center will undertake the trial jointly with the Princeton Program for Coronary Risk Reduction, which was formed in 1987 by Chicago physician Randolph Seed and his brother, John Seed, a family practitioner whose office is on Witherspoon Street.

John Seed's interest in the study of cholesterol began in the late fifties, when he cared for dying cancer patients at Calvary Hospital in New York City. Although most people might have found this depressing, Dr. Seed didn't.

"If your definition of success is that somebody dies confortably and peacefully, the work was very rewarding," he said.

During autopsies, be observed that his patients basically starved to death. "They had no hardening of the arteries, no cholesterol plaques," said Dr. Seed. "This was observed too in concentration camps. Whenever the population starves, heart attacks disappear."

What this told him was that hardening of the arteries is reversible — "if you starve. Getting cancer is not the ideal way to treat hardening of tbe arteries. There had to be a way of clearing the arteries without starving to death."

Dr. Seed, who is chairman of the Princeton Medical Center's Department of Family Practice, moved to Princeton in 1980. In 1982, he began applying himself to the task of clearing people's arteries by diet and medication.

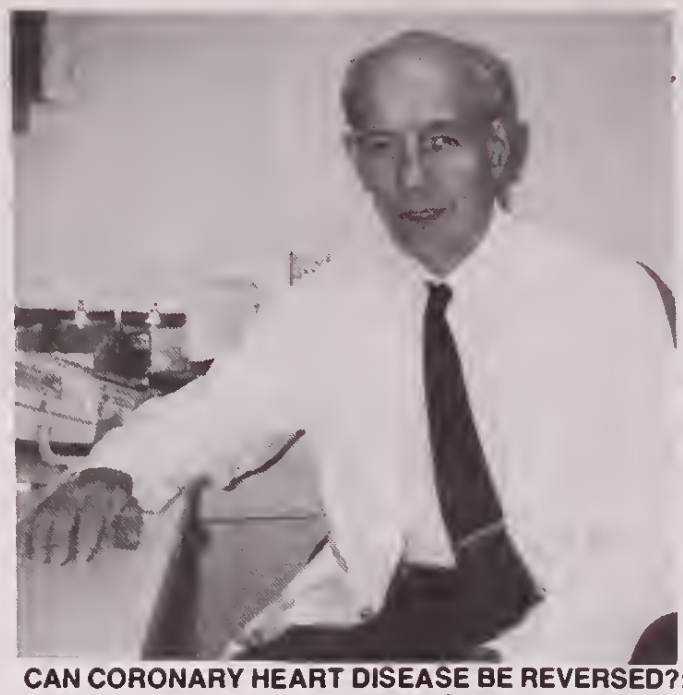
As an example of the success he has had in reversing the formation of plaques, he told of a doctor in town who, at age 42, suffered a heart attack. The doctor gave a talk at Princeton Hospital three months later about what it was like to have a heart attack at the hospital, and told his audience he had brought his cholesterol down.

Underwent Angioplasty

Four months later, his arteries 90 percent closed by the formation of plaques, the doctor underwent an angioplasty. He developed angina, and had to undergo angioplasty three or four more times.

He then came to Dr. Seed for treatment. "Since with angioplasty you have a one in 30 chance of dying, he followed my instructions completely," said Dr. Seed, who told his patient he wanted his cholesterol under 120 mg/dl.

Four years after the heart attack, there is no indication of hardening of the arteries anywhere, reported Dr. Seed.



CAN CORONARY HEART DISEASE BE REVERSED?: That is the subject of a research study to be conducted by Princeton physician Dr. John Seed, above, his physician-brother, Dr. Randolph Seed, and the University of Chicago Medical Center.

Dr. Seed said that most doctors don't believe coronary heart disease can be reversed. "I heard a doctor say cholesterol was not important after age 65. I have an 82-year-old man here, who was given up for dead. He's out spading the garden."

"I feel heart attacks are unnecessary," he said, and reports that most people with a cholesterol count of under 120 mg/dl do very well. In time, he said, most will get a complete reversal of their condition under this count.

"This may well eventually be the landmark study in this area. It could change what doctors do for their patients once they already have the disease."

Coronary artery disease, the nation's leading killer, is brought about by cholesterol and fatty substances in the blood being deposted in the lining of blood vessels, called coronary arteries, that supply the heart. Most experts recommend that adults reduce their cholesterol levels to 200 mg/dl or less.

Dr. Seed uses an aggressive multi-therapy approach to treat patients with coronary artery disease. He has treated more than 500 patients, with considerable success.

Blockage Improved

Animal studies conducted at the University of Chicago have demonstrated that plaques in the walls of the arteries can be made to regress. There is also considerable anecdotal evidence of patients whose blockage improved after treatment — such as the 42-year-old Princeton doctor — but there has not yet been a definitive study.

Dr. Seed and physicians in Chicago will begin a year-long trial to determine whether intensive therapy — combining drugs and diet to reduce cholesterol levels to very low limits, 120 mg/dl or less — can shrink existing atherosclerotic plaques and reduce blockage of coronary arteries.

"This may well eventually be the landmark study in this area," said Dr. William Castelli, director of the Framingham Heart Study, the oldest and largest continuing study of heart disease in the United States. "It could change what doctors do for their patients once they already have the disease."

Dr. Seed has a tentative cooperative arrangement with Drs. Haynes, Hagaman and McCabe, Princeton cardiologists, to have them refer to him ten patients, at random, for treatment. Another group of ten in the study will be treated in standard fashion.

Both Groups Monitored

Both groups will be monitored to see what happens to their heart. In Chicago, 100 patients will participate in the study.

The clinical trial is restricted to adults with established evidence of coronary heart disease or angina requiring medical evaluation and treatment.

Participants must follow a strict diet and take a combination of cholesterol-lowering drugs, including fish oil, niacin, cholestyramine, gemfibrozil, probucol, or lovastatin, as needed.

There have been some reports that low cholesterol levels are tied to cancer. "I don't worry about it," said Dr. Seed. "If you get cancer your cholesterol drops. Which comes first? I haven't seen clear evidence that lower cholesterol causes cancer.

"If you prevent people from getting a heart attack, they'll get something else," he said. "You can't live forever."

Resource Infant Center Is Holding Registration

The Family Resource Infant Center is holding mail-in registration through September 11. Walk-in registration will take place Tuesday, September 18, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

More than 40 parenting groups and parent-child activity classes are planned, along with several parent discussion/support groups. These are playgroup experiences for children that take place while mothers discuss topics of concern. They are led by a professional facilitator.

Parent educational workshops cover such topics as toilet-teaching, sleep, self-esteem, building self-discipline, nutrition, anger, families, mothering more than one, step-parenting, sibling preparation, and mothers over 30.

Parent-child activities include "Simply Messy," "Make and Create," "Story-Craft," "Mommy and Me Exercise," "On the Move," "Creative Movement," and a variety of toddler fun workshops.

Wednesdays at the Resource Center feature guest speakers from the community, including pediatricians, psychologists, social workers, and educators. Alternating with the speakers are "play days," with music, songs, fingerplays, playdough fun, sand play, and a story.

Littlebrook Open House

All Parents and children of families new to Littlebrook School are invited to the school, 39 Magnolia Lane, on Friday, August 31, at 9:30 a.m. to meet the principal and several staff members. Tours of the building will be given and refreshments will be served.

For additional information, call Mary Cohen at 924-1451.

The Family Resource Center will host a nursery school open house, with more than 20 area schools participating.

For a current newsletter, call 924-2167 or 520-9113. Or visit the center, which is located in the United Methodist Church, Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue.

Children's Programs At Rocky Hill Library

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present Kids Only, an after-school program for grades K through two on Tuesday, September 11 at 3:45 p.m.

This weekly program will be a half hour of stories, poetry, a look at new books, and getting to know the library.

The program is free and open to the public.

The library will also present Toddler Time with Pat McKinley on September 13 at 10:30 a.m. for children ages 2 to 3½.

The program will consist of 30 minutes of stories, songs, and play activities for toddlers and parents. Parents should plan to remain with their children. Registration is required and is limited to members of the Mary Jacobs Library and other branches of the Somerset County Library system.

In Addition, the library will offer a Preschool Film Special for children ages 3½ to 5 on Friday, September 14 at 1:45 p.m.

The following films will be shown: Petunia and The Shoemoker and the Elves.

This program is free and open to the public. For further information, call the Library at 924-7073.

Plowing Match and More Planned at Howell Farm

New Jersey's only horse powered plowing match will be held Saturday at Howell Living History Farm, Hopewell Township. Ten teams of big work horses are entered in the match, which features competition in fine plowing, novice plowing, "old timer" plowing, and obstacle course driving. Pony rides, a pig roast and chicken barbecue, 'big hitch' driving, and a children's craft program are all part of the fun, which begins at 10 a.m. and will last until 4 p.m.

Elvin Lapp of Kinzers, Pa., will judge teamsters on their performance, with Sidney Nusbaum, DVM, presenting trophies and checks to those who turn the best furrows.

Cholesterol Study

Importance of Diet

Dr. Seed believes in the importance of diet. "If you don't follow a diet, you can take all the medicine in the world. It won't touch you."

On diet alone, he has brought his own cholesterol count to 135 mg/dl. A typical day's menu will include rice with raisins for breakfast; rice, tomato juice, and low-fat yogurt for lunch; and vegetables, rice, or potatoes for supper.

John Seed and his brother Randolph will raise the funds necessary to support this research effort, principally from corporations and granting agencies who have an interest in the successful demonstration of the reversal of heart disease.

While this clinical trial is going on, John Seed will continue his family practice, just as he has from the beginning of his research into cholesterol. "I'm still taking care of colds, warts, urinary tract infections, what have you," he said.

Dr. Seed attended Princeton University, and taught computer science in the University's engineering department from 1963 to 1985. He graduated from Harvard Medical School.

A physician since 1945, he spent World War II at the Army chemical center, where he and a dozen Harvard classmates were responsible for the bulk of the research there. For the first 12 years of his career he was a clinical pharmacologist.

Dr. Seed has seen many patients who were determined to lower their cholesterol, and who were successful. One patient, he recalls, was told several years ago by a doctor in Philadelphia that she needed a bypass that afternoon. She told the doctor, "Nobody will split my chest open," and asked if he knew anyone who could lower her cholesterol.

She was referred to Dr. Seed, and came to Princeton that afternoon. Although she lives in Atlantic City, she has continued to see him.

"She does beautifully," he says. "She didn't need to have her chest split. She's not having any trouble."

Princeton Family YMCA Offers Fitness for Adults

The Princeton Family YMCA will offer several new fitness programs this fall. Beginning September 11, a Body Toning class Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:15 to 7 will focus on each of the major muscle groups. Hand weights, rubber bands, rubber balls and isolation exercises are incorporated into the routine to make this class an overall workout for everyone.

Fitness programs for adults at any level are available. The aerobic exercises range from low impact classes to combination classes to advanced classes. The low impact class is for people who need light intensity workouts, and is great for beginners. The combination class is a high energy class which is challenging for the beginner and the advanced participant. The advanced class offers experienced aerobics enthusiasts an intensive workout.

The Princeton Family YMCA has announced The Lawrenceville School as a new location for fitness classes, including Rusb Hour Aerobics for members coming from the Lawrenceville area.

In addition, a Yoga and Meditation class for the disabled will be available starting Thursday evening, September 13.

For further information, call 497-YMCA.

Volunteers Are Sought By Parents' Hotline

The Parents Anonymous State Resource Office, located at 12 Roszel Road, Suite A-103, will hold a hotline volunteer training program for individuals interested in staffing the Parents Anonymous Hotline. The training will begin on September 18 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and will be held on six consecutive Tuesday evenings.

The 24-hour hotline offers a unique opportunity for volunteers to help parents who are feeling isolated, upset and in need of someone to talk to.

Volunteers take calls from their own homes. They are taught skills such as crisis intervention, active listening, and use of a statewide referral directory. After the 15-hour training program, they only need to give four hours a week.

Parents Anonymous is the largest self-help organization in the country offering help to parents who want to change abusive behaviors into more loving and caring parenting.

For more information, or to receive a volunteer application, call The Parents Anonymous State Resource Office at 243-9779.

MASH Aftersehool Fun Offered at Princeton YM

The Princeton Family YMCA is now nccepting applicatinns for the 1990-9t MASH (My After School Hours) program for fifth to eighth graders. MASH provides working parents with an organized program for their children after school and durlng holidays. A variety of activities, such as sports, gnmes, swimming, crafts, quiet/study periods, and time outdoors, is availablc.

MASH is in operation from thc time of school dismissnl until 6 p.m., Monday through Friday during the school yenr. Students are met at their school by a MASH stoff member and escorted to the YMCA. A snnck is provided before the afternoon nctivities begin.

In addition, Holiday Camp is available on most school hnlidays from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Scholarships are available fnr all programs and memberships.

For more information, call the YMCA at 497-9622.

State Car Abuse Hotline

Gov. Jim Florio announced a toll-free phone line to receive reports of misuse of state-owned cars.

"We have strict rules governing the use of state vehicles and I'm asking the citizens of New Jersey to help us enforce those rules," Gov. Florio said.

The number, 1-800-992-2761, is staffed weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., except for state holidays.

According to a recent state Treasury Department study, the state receives approximately 170 complaints regarding its cars each year. But because the information previously provided was insufficient or erroneous, or the report was made anonymously, only 28 percent of the complaints ever result in action being taken against the driver.

With the new toll-frce hotline, callers will be asked to provide detailed information to help identify the car, driver and location of the alleged infraction. They will be asked to leave a name and phone number so the report can be verified.

Licence plates on most state government cars begin with "SG," followed by a letter and three numbers. Violations include reckless driving, transporting one's children, and making personal stops unless they arc on the driver's direct route.

The toll-free number is for use in-state. If calling from nutside New Jersey, dial (609) 777-1878.

G.E.D. Classes Offered In West Windsor High

West Windsor-Plainsboro Community Education is offering classes to help adults prepare for the General Educational Development (G.E.D.) tests. Successful completion of these tests will lead to a New Jersey State high school diploma. Students must be at lenst 18 years of nge and out of school for at least two years. This is nn opportunity for ndults who have not achieved their high school diplonn to do so in an adult environment where they can advance at their own speed.

Classes start on October 2 and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 7:30 to 9:30, at West Windsor-Plainsboro High School. The course is free, and is funded by the State of New Jersey.

Martin Leichter, the instructor, has taught G.E.D. classes in New Jersey and New York for many years. He will be at West Windsor-Plainsboro High School on Tuesday, September 11, and Thursday, September 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. to speak with all adults interested in this class. Call the Community Education office, 452-2185, for an appointment.

Volleyball Tournament Scheduled hy the YMCA

The Princeton Family YMCA will sponsor a six- and four-person volleyball tournament on Saturday, September 22, from 9 to 6 at the YMCA (rain date September 23). Intermediate players may enter the six-person tournament while the more competitive and advanced teams should enter the four-person tournament.

Awards will be given to the first and second place teams in each of the tournaments. Entries must be received before September 4. The registration fee is $70 for a six-person team and $50 for a four-person team.

For more information or a registration form, call 497-YMCA.

Asian Cultural Society Sponsors Buddhist Monk

The Asian Cultural Arts Society will sponsor a talk, "Experiencing the Quiet Mind," by Buddhist monk Bhante Wimala of Sri Lanka on Tuesday, September 11.

The Rev. Wimala is founder of the Center for Conscious Evolution in Cambridge, Mass., to further his work of helping people learn meditation and find inner peace.

This free presentation, hosted by the Holistic Health Association, will take place at 7:30 p.m. at the Princeton Unitarian Church, Rt. 206 and Cherry Hill Road. For more information, call the HHAPA office at 924-8580.

Intensive Job Training Through MCCC Program

Mercer County Community College's Career Training Institute (CTI) provides intensive, noncredit training that prepares students for entry-level jobs in three to six months.

CTI offers training in child care work, computer operations, data entry, dental assisting, electronics, medical records technology, microcomputer accounting, microcomputer repair, phlebotomy, secretarial skills, and word processing. The program also provides job placement assistance for all graduates.

Students in CTI programs may be eligible for financial aid through the Guaranteed Student Loan Program, the Pell Grant Program, or through the federally funded Job Training Partnership Act. Students are also eligible for college credit that may be applied toward degrees at MCCC.

Free Directory Available Of Mammogram Services

The Health Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey (HRET), a nonprofit affiliate of the New Jersey Hospital Association, has published a statewide directory of mammography screening services.

The project was made possible by a $30,000 grant from the state Department of Health, Cancer Control & Risk Reduction Program. In conjunction with the directory, HRET has launched a radio public service campaign educating the public about the importance of mammography. Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund serves as spokeswoman on the radio ads.

Approximately 200 institutions are listed in the directory, ranging from hospital-based services to privately owned facilities. The directory contains information about each facility's scope and hours of services, fees and proximity to public transportation.

Guided Bird Walks In Pennsylvania Park

Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve will offer guided bird watching walks on Saturday mornings in September and October. The walks are open to the public and free of charge. Participants will meet on the front porch of the headquarters building of the Wildflower Preserve in Washington Crossing Historic Park in Pennsylvania at 8 a.m. The walks will last approximately 90 minutes.

Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve is well-known among "birders" as a local hop-spot for migrating warblers and other song birds. The area around Bowman's Tower is particularly good for observing migrating hawks. The pace will be slow and deliberate through the Preserve and to Bowman's Tower. Participants should dress for the weather, wear walking shoes, and bring binoculars. Each participant will receive a checklist of the birds of Bowman's Hill.

For more information call (215) 862-2924.

Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve is located in the northern section of Washington Crossing Historic Park on Pennsylvania Route 32, approximately 2½ miles south of New Hope.

Historical Walking Tour Sponsored in Burlington

The Historic Burlington Preservation Foundation will sponsor a walking tour of the High Street historic district in downtown Burlington on Sunday starting at 1 p.m. at the Hoskins House on 202 High Street. The theme for this year's tour will be, "The people and Places of Proprietary Burlington 1677-1702." Tour guide will be Robert Thompson, former manager of the High Street restoration program.

Shortly after its founding in 1677, the City of Burlington was designated the capital of the colony of West Jersey. A courthouse with an open market below was erected to house the West Jersey Assembly in 1685. Remnants of this building were unearthed during an archaeological excavation in 1983. The residence of the governor of the colony was also located on High Street. The significance of both sites will be discussed during the walking tour.

The tour will be conducted at a leisurely pace with frequent stops for rest and refreshments. It will end at approximately 3 p.m. at the Cooper-Lawrence Houses, headquarters of the Burlington County Historical Society.

Advance registration is recommended. Tickets are $5 for members of the Foundation and $7.50 for nonmembers. Send checks or money orders to the Historic Burlington Preservation Foundation, P.O. Box 1344, Burlington 08016, or call for reservations at 387-4332.

"Closed Door" Policy Hit For Center's Application

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is important to bring to your attention the problems inherent in the "closed door" policy apparently being followed with regard to the Princeton Shopping Center application.

As early as last January, the Princeton Township Attorney was reporting "discussions with the Shopping Center regarding expansion plans and affordable housing" to the Township Committee in closed sessions (according to the minutes of the January 29, 1990 meeting).

On August 14, 1990, when a neighbor of the Shopping Center and I attempted to attend a meeting scheduled by the Planning Board for its members to review the Shopping Center application, we were refused admission.

Although the Planning Board attorney very clearly stated to us that the meeting "was not a closed session", he also told us in no uncertain terms that we were "not welcome" even though we advised him that we only wanted to sit and listen.

I find the "closed door" approach surrounding this project to be most frustrating. The Princeton Shopping Center is very much a part of our community and its impact goes well beyond its immediate lot lines. Both the Township Committee and the Planning Board are public bodies charged with conducting public business. The Shopping Center application for expansion is clearly part of that public business.

What possible excuse could exist for keeping the details of this major application away from the public, and especially from the immediate neighbors whose homes will be most affected?

The New Jersey Open Public Meetings Act states "that the right of the public to be present at all meetings of public bodies, and to witness in full detail all phases of the deliberation, policy formulation, and decision making of public bodies, is vital to the enhancement and proper functioning of the democratic process . . ." (N.J.S.A. 10:4-7).

While there are specific narrow exceptions to this Act, the intent of the law is clear, namely: the public has a right to be kept informed of matters which affect the public interest.

The unhappy consequence of a "closed door" policy is the generation of suspicion and opposition, even to parts of this project which may have merit.

I firmly believe that the citizens of this community are objective and intelligent, and are capable of making informed decisions regarding the future of their own community. However, no private citizen can make an informed decision if government operates behind closed doors.

A Petition to AT&T: Don't Sell 800 Acre-Farm

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Enclosed please find o copy of o letter thot I recently wrote to Richord E. Allen, Choirman ond CEO of AT&T, regording its pending sole of a large porcel of farmlond in Mercer County [in Lawrence and Hopewell townships]. After writing, I leorned thot their developers' proposed use for this lond presents a further potentiol for environmentol assoults, in that the pesticides and chemicol fertilizers thot ore utilized intensively in the mointenonce of golf courses imperil the purity of locol streoms and the underlying woter table.

As this enormous parcel of lond is so neor to Princeton, ond as its chonge in use will greatly offect our regionol londscope, I thought my letter might be of interest to you or to your reoders.

As you undoubtedly are aware, AT&T owns an 800-acre parcel of farmland in Mercer County, New Jersey. AT&T has recently made known to the public that it intends to sell this land to a developer. My purpose in writing is to challenge you to reconsider this decision, and to persuade you that such a sale would be a great mistake.

For many years, I have silently admired the wisdom and forebearance of AT&T for protecting this parcel, for making it possible for its tenant farmers to continue to plant and harvest, and for passers-by like me to enjoy its beauty. I had long meant to write a note of praise, and now find myself compelled to write an urgent letter of caution instead.

Examining a highway map of the northeastern United States, one notices that an almost continuous swath of urban development runs between Boston and Washington. There are few breaks in that long chain of cities, but the rural landscape near Princeton has managed to remain one such point of relief. Now the area is besieged by a wave of development which threatens to suburbanize this surviving piece of rural America.

The AT&T parcel is vast by Mercer County standards, and for this reason it is crucial: It provides the critical mass that makes such a farm landscape viable. Were it to succumb to the bulldozer, it is very unlikely that agriculture in this region could survive.

The argument might be made that the low density of the golf course community proposed by AT&T's developer makes it the most "responsible" means of commercial exploitation that is available under the circumstances. This is an outdated and misguided point of view, for it must be understood that such a development would utterly destroy the pattern of fields, hedgerows and woodland that make this property the pristine wonder that it is. The proposed development may be green, but its berms and sand traps, its affluent residences and meandering drives, would effectively erase the rural landscape that has taken three centuries to mature.

The current annual carrying cost to the corporation is negligible: Approximately $70,000 in real estate taxes, presumably reduced by rental income from the tenants. Instead of liquidating the property, AT&T might explore a number of more ethical and far-sighted alternatives: Continuing to "bank" the land as an investment in the unknown future; Selling the development rights at reduced prices to the state Green Acres program, or to similar programs in Lawrence and Hopewell Townships; Donating the land to the County as a Farm Preserve that would complement Rosedale Park; or even setting aside a block of 15 acres at the periphery to be developed as a model compact town — with stores, offices, a square, and closely-spaced houses — while preserving the remaining 785 acres as woods and farmland.

AT&T proclaimed prominently its commitment to envionmentally-responsible policy and action in its Earth Day advertisements. To sell this land to the developer would be to trumpet a message of corporate hypocrisy to the public. Conversely, the benefits in public relations would be great if AT&T were to make it known that it embraces the stewardship of such an extraordinary landscape as this. I am convinced that whatever short-term financial benefit there may be in selling out would be outweighed by the long-term advantages that would accrue to AT&T in publicly and proudly maintaining this property as open land and safeguarding it from development.

My appeal is based upon a conviction that our country — and its corporations, great and small — must now become the responsible custodians of its most precious natural assets as the new millenium approaches. Our farmland is emphatically one of these assets, and especially so in this overcrowded "Garden State" in which we live. Its value is truly incalculable: It is valuable not only because it produces our food, but because it remains an open, untramelled landscape, breathtaking in its beauty. The existence of farmland puts our otherwise relentlessly urban lives in balance, and those who will follow us will not forgive us if we fail to save it for them to see and enjoy.

Prohibition and 1984 Come to Princeton

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following is a copy of a letter I have written to Borough Councilman Mark Freda.

I applaud your efforts on our behalf. Just what Princeton needs — another ordinance. You propose to ban public drinking of alcohol in public places in Princeton. I propose that you are over-regulating the public of Princeton.

I am tired of being the victim of problems caused by a minority of the population. We are encouraged not to walk alone at night for fear of being mugged or assaulted by the occasional aggressor. We are encouraged to buy locking devices for home and bicycle for fear of theft. Even the National Parks are no longer a safe haven for vacationers; in the Grand Canyon, you must lock your car.

Town Topics reports that "two years ago" there was a complaint regarding alcohol being consumed on the street. Anything since then? Police Capt. Michaud says "there are times when groups gather, talk, play the radio and consume alcoholic beverages." I hope so. This is a community after all, where neighbors and friends get together occasionally.

Would you prefer that we work all day, and stay indoors all evening, glued to our Nintendo and VCR? Are you afraid that we might actually talk to each other? Does this mean I cannot enjoy a picnic lunch in Palmer Square, purchased at a local business, including a beer? What about New Year's Eve? What about any celebration? What about block parties?

Are there not existing laws to cope with disorderly persons, who may or may not be consuming alcohol? What about students on Prospect Avenue? Most of them are under 21 — you have a law. Do we really need another law Mr. Freda? How many complaints have you actually received which specifically involve the public consumption of alcohol, (and which do not involve the P-rade or Princeton University reunions, which you propose to "permit" anyway)? I ask that you abandon this proposal and try another.

I propose that the police get out of their cars (aren't there enough of those in Princeton these days?) and walk around the streets. Let them walk on dark Prospect Avenue at night and prevent assaults. There are existing ordinances to prevent public disorder, assault, nuisance, and noise. We do not really need yet another one.

And by the way, alcohol is not necessarily the root of the problem. I submit it may be people. After all people talking do make noise. Alternatively, if we are really trying to assist the police, why not ban the use of bicycles? That should cut down the unsolved theft rate!

Area Actors to Read Mayor Sigmund's Poems

Mayor Barbara Sigmund has given The Theatre Guild of N.J. Inc. permission to present a staged reading of her newly published poetry book entitled An Unfinished Life.

Several actors will be featured at 8 p.m. Saturday, September 15, at the Arts Council for the reading, including Petie Duncan, June Connerton and Herbert McAneny, all of Princeton, and Ruth Markoe, of Lawrenceville.

A donation of $5 is requested. The proceeds will go to Woman's Space. The Theatre Guild of New Jersey will hold a wine and cheese reception following the reading

Mayor Sigmund will unveil her poems at a book signing party on Sunday, September 9 at the Institute for Advanced Study.

"I'm only going to read my poems for about 15 minutes on September 9. With a line-up of these fine actors it sounds as though my entire book is going to be read," commented Sigmund.

MUSIC

Indian Classical Violinist To Play with Jazz Artists

The State Theatre in New Brunswick will be the site of a concert combining American jazz and Indian classical music at 8 p.m. on Saturday, September 15.

Violin soloist Dr. L. Subramaniam will perform in concert with jazz flutist Hubert Laws and guitarist Larry Coryell. The program is presented by Infinity, Inc., a New Jersey based nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting an understanding between Eastern and Western cultures.

A native of India, Dr. Subramaniam has emerged in recent years as one of the world's leading violinists in performances of Western classical music, Indian classical music and American jazz in collaborative performances with many of the world's leading jazz and classical musicians.

Also a composer, Dr. Subramaniam has performed works of his own composition with symphony orchestras throughout the world. At the invitation of Zubin Mehta, he performed his Fontasy on Vedic Chants on the opening concert of the New York Philharmonic's 1985-86 season. This coming season, he will perform his Concerto for Two Violins with the Cannes Symphony Orchestra and the Norwegian Radio Orchestra. Joining him as co-soloist in Cannes will be Yehudi Menuhin.

Dr. Subramaniam has also developed a following throughout the world as an exponent of contemporary jazz through his collaborations with Laws, Coryell, Herbie Hancock and Ernie Watts.

His Neo-fusion jazz concert in New Brunswick will be the first New York-area performance of a program that has been heard in Moscow, Vienna, England, France and Germany.

Tickets to the peformance, priced from $10 to $50, can be ordered by calling the box office at (201) 246-7469. Specially priced benefit tickets which include a post-concert dinner with the artists are priced at $100. The State Theatre is at 19 Livingston Avenue in downtown New Brunswick, near the intersection with George Street.

Princeton Sing-a-Long Scheduled for September

Men who like to sing, whether in church choirs, at home in the shower or out in taverns, are invited to be guests of the Garden Statesmen Chorus of the Princeton Chapter, S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. at a series of singing parties every Tuesday during September at 8 p.m. The Sing-a-longs will take place in the social hall of the United Methodist Church at the corner of Nassau and Vandeventer streets in Princeton. Parking is free behind the church.

The guests will have an opportunity to sing with the chorus on these occasions, and those who are interested will be invited to become members of the Chapter which meets every Tuesday evening during the year at the same location. For further information, call 921-6487.

Girl Singers Sought For Princeton Choir

Auditions for the Princeton Girlchoir are now being scheduled. A group of middle school singers from the Princeton area, the choir is directed by Janet A. Westrick, a music teacher at Princeton Day School.

The Princeton Girlchoir is planning its second season. Last year's schedule included two public concerts, two performances at local school assemblies, and an appearance with Princeton Pro Musica.

Girls in grades five through eight are invited to audition. For information, call 466-2119 or 924-8017.

Soprano Linda Curtin Presents Solo Recital

Linda Curtin, award winning soprano with Voices, the vocal ensemble of professional soloists, will present a solo recital Sunday, September 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Princeton Unitarian Church. Entitled September Song, the program features "Elsa's Traum" from Richard Wagner's Lohengrin, selections from Poulenc's Fiancoilles pour Rire, and lighter music by Lerner and Loewe. She will be accompanied by pianist Norma Hoster Loudon with whom she has been performing since 1975.

Ms. Curtin, of Fanwood, is the 1990 winner of the Gaeuman Memorial Award Competition, sponsored by the New York Singing Teachers Association. In addition to performing locally with Voices, she has appeared with the Clarion Music Society, the Opera Ensemble of New York, the Bel Canto Workshop and at the Trinity Church Noonday Concert Series in New York City.

Tickets for the recital are $18 for preferred seating, $8 for general admission and $6 for senior citizens, students and

Chorus Needs Singers

GPYO Prep Orchestra Schedules Auditions

Auditions will be held September 16, 17 and 18 for the 1990-91 season of the Greater Princeton Youth String Preparatory Orchestra. Openings are available for qualified string players in elementary and junior high school. Viola, cello and bass students are especially needed.

The GPYO String Preparatory Orchestra, made up of approximately 50 student members from five nearby counties in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, meets for weekly rehearsals on Thursday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and will give two free Sunday afternoon performances, January 27 and May 12.

Auditions, and rehearsals will be held on the campus of the Westminster Choir College in Princeton.

For further information, and an audition appointment, call 737-1866.

Old Time Mountain Music At the Kelsey Theater

Mike Seeger will perform mountain music on Saturday, September 15, at 8 p.m. at Kelsey Theater on Mercer County Community College's West Windsor Campus. Tickets are $15 for adults, and $11 for students and senior citizens.

Mr. Seeger plays authentic folk tunes on the fiddle, autoharp, dulcimer, banjo, guitar, mandolin, jaw harp, pan pipes and harmonica. He has gathered many homespun American songs while visiting rural schoolhouses and square dances in the Appalachians, where he learned the musical artistry of country people firsthand.

The numbers he performs are varied, from Walking Boss, a 19th-century Afro-American song of railroad construction, and Tennessee Dog, a medicine show song, to Rolling and Tumbling Blues, a Mississippi Delta blues tune, and Prairie Rhonde Waltz, a classic Cajun waltz.

MUSICIANS ALL: The GPYO String Preparatory Orchestra is beginning its 12th season. Conductor John Enz, shown with students, will be holding auditions for new members, starting September 16.

Mr. Seeger has more than 50 recordings to his credit, including solo work and recordings with the New Lost City Ramblers. He has performed throughout the United States, at the Smithsonian Institution, Carnegie Hall and the White House, and he has made three appearances on radio's "A Prairie Home Companion." Mr. Seeger has also toured Europe, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, and Western Africa.

For more information or to order tickets by phone, call 586-4695. MasterCard and Visa are accepted.

Children's Entertainment At MCCC Kelsey Theater

The Kelsey Theater at the Mercer County Community College is offering a program of fall entertainment for children. A subscription to five different live children's shows is available for $27. Tickets for individual events are $7.

The Kelsey Kids fall series begins with "Peter Samelson the Magician" on Saturday, September 8, at 1 and 3. Giant puppets and songs will take kids on a musical romp through the world of computers in "Circuitry Circus," Saturday, September 22, at 1, 3 and 5 p.m.

Jonathan Sprout's "On the Radio", October 27, 1 and 3 p.m., features Mr. Sprout performing a rock concert of children's songs from his album On the Radio. Alice in Wonderland will be performed Saturday, November 10 at 1, 3 and 5 p.m., and Sunday, November 11 at 1 and 3. The fall series ends with the award-winning ArtReach Touring Company performing Beauty and the Beast, December 15 at 1, 3 and 5 p.m.

Subscriptions are also available for the Kelsey Kids spring series. Spring performances will be Billy B. and the Singing Tree, January 19; The Little Prince, February 16; Aesop's Fables, March 23; The House at Pooh Corner, April 27 and 28; and Greenthing, May 18.

Kelsey Theater is located on the West Windsor campus of Mercer County Community College.

Mostly a Cappella Auditions

Mostly a Cappella, a choral ensemble based in Hopewell, has openings for singers in all voice parts. The group rehearses weekly in Hopewell and performs several times a year in the Mercer and Bucks county areas.

Mostly a Cappella performs a wide range of o coppella music, including motets, madrigals, spirituals, jazz, and modern works.

Singers should have a good sense of pitch and rhythm and some sight-reading ability. Auditions may be arranged by calling 466-9465.

To all qualified choral singers in the Princeton area:

Allow me to extend a cordial invitation to audition for the Princeton University Chapel Choir or the Princeton University Glee Club during the upcoming audition period in September. Both groups welcome the musical and personal diversity brought about by community members sharing the great music that we experience. The Chapel Choir is a particularly able group of salaried singers that furnishes the music for the Sunday morning services in the University Chapel, often of the scope of a Mozart missa brevis or a Bach cantata. The Glee Club confines itself to concerts, both here and out of town, and sings a repertoire of comparable worth. For those with the ability and the time, membership in either Group can be extremely rewarding.

There is, however, another possibility for performance with the two groups. For the past several years, a group of excellent singers from the community has joined forces with us to enlarge and enhance the chorus for such works as the Berlioz "Requiem," the Brahms "Triumphlied," and this last season, the Beethoven "Missa solemnis." We have all been very pleased with the result, and as a result I am renewing the invitation to audition not only for the Chapel Choir and Glee Club membership, but for those with less time, participation in the large works of the season. On March 1 and 2, we will perform the Bach "Mass in B Minor," and on April 19 and 20 we will conclude our concert season with the Brahms "Deutsches Requiem;" both works will be performed in Richardson Auditorium with soloists and orchestra. Neither requires any introduction to the experienced choral singer, and we intend to develop performances that will do justice to their towering stature.

As usual, schedules will be arranged that will prevent interference with regular membership in church choirs and community choruses. Therefore, if you are an experienced soprano, alto, tenor or bass, and if you are interested in the "big works" proposal, or Chapel Choir/Glee Club membership, please phone 258 - 3048 weekdays before 3 p.m. Any questions you may have will be answered, and the possibility of an audition time will be explored. Many thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Walter Nollner

Defense Will Again be Key to Tiger Football Title Hopes, Just As It Was In Championship Years of 1969 and 1989

It's accurate to say that defense is what really enabled Princeton to break its 20-year drought of Ivy football titles.

A year ago, Princeton led the league in all defensive categories but one, leading in rushing defense, total defense and scoring defense. Dartmouth edged out the Tigers in pass defense by a few yards.

Scoring defense is obviously

the key, and here Princeton allowed just 80 points in its seven league contests, an average of just over 11 per game. Would you care to guess the last time Old Nassau recorded such an impressive figure?

A quick trip through the record book confirms it was 1969, which not surprisingly was the last time the Orange and Black wore the Ivy crown. In that memorable campaign, Jake McCandless's troops allowed just 74 points. Princeton's all-time low since the league began round-robin play 34 years ago, was 46 — recorded in 1964, another championship (and undefeated) season.

HIROU ON GUARD: Strong Safety Mike Hirou stands ready to help while his teammates bring down a Columbia runner last fall. Hirou will lead a Tiger defense that hopes to be as stingy as last year's unit that led the league. (Larry French photo)

All this should come as no surprise. A good defense has always been more valuable than a high-powered offense. During Princeton's run-and-gun years in the early 80's, records were set every other week on offense, but this firepower rarely translated into a winning record.

One interesting note concerns the difference in scoring in non-league games versus the league encounters. The battles with non-Ivy foes always tend to be much more wide open affairs. Last year, there was the one-sided rout by Holy Cross, 46-0, but the Tigers also gave up 31 points to William & Mary, and even 20 to lowly Fordham. No Ivy opponent tallied more than 15.

Four Starters Returning

Now Steve Tosches' team is set to defend its championship with a defensive unit that has just four returning starters. Several top flight players picked up their diplomas last June.

Chief among them was Franco Pagnanelli. From his inside linebacker position, the 1989 captain led the team in tackles every year he played. Just as important, he was the team's spiritual leader, keeping his teammates focused on what had to be done each week.

Quality performers like tackles Rob Henricks and Steve Hillegeist and end Rick Emery are also gone, meaning the line will have to be almost totally rebuilt. Frank Leal, a three-year starter at cornerback, will be difficult to replace. He had seven of the team's 16 interceptions a year ago.

On the line, the Tigers are best off at end, where Renard Charity (6'5, 240) will return to his spot. With 41 tackles and four sacks, he was an honorable mention all-Ivy selection a year ago as a junior. Two juniors, Leon Newsome (6'5, 250) and Tom Ryan (6'2, 230) will compete to replace Emery. Both saw considerable action in seven of 10 games last fall.

The tackle spots are less certain. Senior Steve Schildt (6'2, 240), the only player with much experience (five games, one start), will probably claim one position. The other will be up for grabs with junior Mike Zampardi (6'1, 235) one of the candidates.

One of three starters returns to the linebacking corps, which also will feel the loss of Gary Kempenski. Jim Freeman, a 6'3 225-lb. junior, is slated to be the starter at outside linebacker, and senior Joe Macaione (6'2, 205), who also saw plenty of action, is behind him on the depth chart. Obviously one of the two could be shifted inside where Pagnanelli and Kempenski played, beeause both of their back-ups graduated as well.

Pink's Man May Start

The way might be open for Gene Demorat (5'11, 225), a fine sophomore prospect, to gain a starter's role. He won the Pink Baker Award as the top defensive player on the 1989 freshman squad.

The defensive backfield should be the the strongest unit on the field with two returning starters, including captain Mike Hirou. Tabbed as a sophomore as the replacement for the talented Dean Cain, Hirou has pretty much lived up to the challenge at strong safety. In nine games last fall, he had 56 tackles, fifth best on the team, plus two interceptions. He also saw duty os a kickoff and punt return specialist.

James Lowry won a starting job at cornerbock last year as a junior, and will hring experience to that spot. The other cornerback slot is wide open, with senior Tom Bevan and junior Mike Dimarino, who moy be switched from strong sofety, listed as the top candidotes.

Senior Trevor Crossen, who wos switched from offense to defense lost year, has the inside trnck nt the free safety position. Crossen, who wns the back-up for the talented Vince Avallone Inst seoson, also returns kickoffs for the Tigers.

For his kieking game, Tosches con count on one veteron, but will have to find a replocement for another. After a superb sophomore season, senior plnceklcker Chris Lutz fell off in 1989, converting only seven of 14 field goal attempts. He'll be hoping to regoln the form that mode him nn all-American two years ogo, ond keep junior Jason Scott, his back-up, on the bench for another year.

With the departure of Brad Remig, Tosches will hove to develop another punter. Reinig did o satisfactory job, averoging o little less than 34 yards per kick, but it's been years since the Tigers hod a reolly good mon in this important department. A good punter can moke the defense thot much better.

Overall, plenty of things will have to fall into place in a hurry for the Tigers to ploy as well defenslvely as they did a year ago. It's very doubtful this unit will be able to hold opposing Ivy teams to onywhere near 80 points, and that means the offense will have to score more.

Next week: The opposition.

—Jeb Stuart

Everything Is New This Fall in Princeton High's Football Program — Coaches, Plays & Players

He has no depth chart yet, no pre-season predictions. No clear view of what lies ahead for the Princeton High football team this foll.

Keith Wadsworth, the young, new coach of the Little Tigers, readily concedes that he is sailing in uncharted waters. He has never coached the sport before; neither have two of his three assistants, Jason Petrone and Dave Dudeck. A number of seniors on the squad ore returning after a yeor's obsence. There is more thot's new than fnmilior.

New is the dominant word: new coaches, new plays, new players, and a new trainer have combined to establish a we're-oll-in-this-together otmosphere. "We're oll working together," agrees Wodsworth.

In less than three weeks, PHS will open its seoson at home, September 15 against Nottingham — one of only three home games on the nine-game schedule. Not much time to reverse o program what won only one ond tied two games last yeor and which won only once the yeor before.

But that is what the 31-year-old Wadsworth sees as his primary goal: to rebuild the football program. "There's a lot of work ahead, but I am proud of the way things are going."

After less than a week of practice, Wadsworth could comment, "It's going well. We have a good turnout. The kids are excited. The morale is high. I think the kids are tired of losing."

Wadsworth reports he has a squad of 36 with the prospect of four or five more players. That is about a third larger than last year's record-thin squad.

Enthusiasm Is There

"The enthusiasm — it's there," continued Wadsworth. "I think it's what's helping to keep the team together. Kids have come up to me this year to say, 'it's fun.' You only have to explain once and they do it."

Aside from enthusiasm, Wodsworth has a few more pluses. One is his co-captains, Ryan Branon and Garret Morris. The 6-1 Branon finished third among passing leaders in Mercer County last year with 620 yards and two TDs; Morris, 6-0, 197, helped anchor a fine Little Tiger defensive line, gaining honorable mention in the County as a defensive tackle. This year, he will dou-

Tigers' Basketball Card Gets Big Lift

Two games, one a virtual certainty, the other a probable, will go a long way to improving the Princeton basketball schedule for fans here this winter.

The first, with only the formal signing needed to close the deal, will match Pete Carril's team against the University of Nevada at Las Vegas (UNLV) on Wednesday, December 19. Naturally, the game will be in Las Vegas, but the big bonus for Tiger fans is that ESPN will televise the contest. The sports network loves the solid ratings Old Nassau brings in when it plays the big guys. Both the Georgetown game in 1989 and the Arkansas match-up last March drew big numbers.

ESPN has been working to get the Tigers on during the regular season, and UNLV knew a good deal when it saw one. The defending NCAA champions get to play on their court, and will share in the television money with Princeton. The two last met in 1984 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, with the Runnin' Rebels winning, 68-56.

The second game, even more intriguing, is not as certain, but everything seems to point to its becoming a reality. This would be the classic match-up of the top defensive team in the country, Princeton, playing the highest scoring team, Loyola-Marymount.

CBS-TV reportedly is interested in televising the game on Sunday, March 10, 1991, the same day the draw for the NCAA Tournament is announced. The teams would play in Jadwin Gym earlier in the afternoon.

The contest would come one week after the conclusion of the Ivy League race, which, of course, everyone is assuming Princeton is going to win. If it doesn't, this contest will be one helluva embarrassment for all concerned.

One other minor matter: the Tigers, in adding two games, would be one over the league limit of 26, and would have to drop one. The likely candidate to go is Washington & Jefferson, which signed on recently when St. Joseph's dropped off.

there is a turnover at Princeton High, he said.

As examples, he cited Chappy Moore at Notre Dame (starting his 15th year) and Tom Stuart at West Windsor (11th). "They have the same coaches year after year. They know each other and what the other thinks. It's a lot smoother and better for the kids."

"That's why I am giving my coaches a lot of input. We're all learning. The kids are learning. We're all excited."

Garrett Up and Down In Eagles' Game Monday

Princeton University's Judd Garrett, trying to grab a spot on the Eagles' roster, got another chance to show Buddy Ryan what he could do Monday night and his performance was both good and bad.

His problems in Philadelphia's game with Indianapolis in the Hoosier Dome came with two fumbles, one of which he managed to recover. But, the other was costly.

Returning a kickoff after the Colts' first quarter touchdown, Garrett was hit hard at the 22 and fumbled. The Colts recovered and kicked a field goal a few plays later. That was the extent of his action in the first half, and he did not return kickoffs the rest of the night.

Later on in the fourth quarter, Garrett carried the ball three times for nine yards and caught three passes for seven yards. He also made a nice block on Robert Drummond's one-yard run into the end zone.

If not Ryan, Garrett certainly seemed to impress the ABC-TV broadcast trio of Al Michaels, Frank Gifford and Dan Dierdorf. They had plenty to say when he made a nice catch on a high pass thrown by third-string quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and when he threw his block.

However, it's Ryan who'll be making the decision on whom to cut, and the Eagles' 80-man roster had to be down to 60 by this past Tuesday. A further cut to 47 players has to be made after the final exhibition contest next weekend. Given those kinds of numbers, Garrett's chances of survival seem very slim.

ble as center on offense.

Still, there are a lot of question marks, Wadsworth admits, from seniors on down to a few promising freshmen. Among the latter is Bram Reynolds, a 6-2, 195-pound freshman who, says Wadsworth, "has the size, hands and speed to be on the varsity."

Reynolds is a candidate for tight end. A standout player for the Princeton Midget Football League and in basketball in the Dillon League, Reynolds is one of a big freshman squad coming in. College coaches are already scouting him for basketball, reports Wadsworth.

Wadsworth and his staff (the only one returning with experience is Jim Harris, second in command last year to departed head coach Kurt Vollberbst) will get a better look at the team on Saturday when it scrimmages South Hunterdon. The following Saturday, the Little Tigers will scrimmage New Brunswick.

"I'm trying to learn each player to find who belongs where," confesses Wadsworth. While he had hoped, he said, to introduce a completely new playbook, Wadsworth is finding it much more time consuming than he anticipated. "I've worked all summer on it. I was trying to be efficient and have it all done."

But in actual practice, Wadsworth discovered things have to be altered. The other coaches have different ideas. "We sit down and discuss it for as much as three hours at a time. I'm flexible."

In addition, Wadsworth reports that a lot of the players remember last year's formations and get confused. "I don't want to upset the whole apple cart," says Wadsworth, who has come around to "gradually installing" his plays. On offense, Wadsworth says the Little Tigers will operate primarily out of the Power I; on defense, the team will line up in a 52. As for taking advantage of Branon's arm and experince and putting the ball in the air more this year, Wadsworth would not commit himself. "Too early to say," he said.

Changes in the Backfield

Branon's will be the lone familiar face in the backfield. Guy Romain, a guard last year, has switched to fullback. "He's a strong runner and has some quickness," says Wadsworth of the 6-1, 190-pound senior.

Who's really quick, adds Wadsworth, is junior running back Nixon Grant, a member of the track team who did not play football last year.

At the other running slot will be senior tailback Eddie McEwen, who is returning after a year's absence. "He may not be the fastest, but he knows where and when to cut at the right time. He'll see a lot of playing time," predicted Wadsworth.

Morris will anchor the PHS line, aided by returning veterans Curtis Jurens and Kobie Schutz and three juniors — John Meslin, John Rak and Kyle O'Donnell. Jurrens is 6-4, 195; Schutz is a 6-3, 190-pound defensive end and guard.

The line will be bolstered considerably with the return of three beefy seniors, all of whom are returning after a year's absence. Tona Palomina is a 248-pound, six-foot tackle. Dan Petrecca, a tight end candiate, is very aggressive and has a lot of potential, says Wadsworth. "I'm glad to see him back."

Tad Kinchla, a high scoring lacrosse player for the Little Tigers in the spring, is "a big asset," according to Wadsworth. "He's a hustler and he's smart. He has good football instincts. He'll help out a lot." Kinchla should end up a starter on the line and as a linebacker on defense.

Consistency in Coaching

If Wadsworth has another early career goal it would be to "keep the coaching consistent." It seems every year

GOING BACK

The following is a look back at summers post — at what appeared in the pages of TOWN TOPICS 15, 25, and 35 years ago.

15 Years Ago

Despite the objections of landlords, Borough Council extended rent leveling for another two years, retaining the Consumer Price Index as the baseline for rent increases. Under the new ordinance, landlords were allowed to pass along some of the cost of capital improvements and to obtain increases in hardship cases.

"It's not perfect. It's an approximation of perfection," said Mayor Robert Cawley.

Efforts were begun to resettle Vietnamese who fled their country at the close of the war. A Princeton Junction couple sponsored an acquaintance from Saigon and his cousin, while a Pennington church and a committee of Princeton's Interfaith Council began sending letters of intent to resettlement agencies to sponsor a Vietnamese or Cambodian family.

Jaws was bringing summertime chills to moviegoers at The Garden (all the books about sharks were out at the Public Library), while The Playhouse was showing The Return of the Pink Panther.

Borough and Township decided that one person — Stuart Robson Sr. — could be the tax assessor for both municipalities.

The Borough, meanwhile, selected George Olexa to replace Donald Harney, who had served as Borough Engineer since 1969.

Jessie Pieroth, 22, a Rutgers University student, and her husband, Arthur Tassinello, set up a lunchtime Sabrett hot dog wagon on the corner of University Place and Nassau Street. A TOWN TOPICS gourmet visited the wagon on opening day and reported the hot dogs were tasty, if somewhat high in price (5 to 20 cents more than the comparable fare in New York City.)

Davidson's was advertising boneless steaks nt $1.89 a pound, three loaves of white bread for a dollnr, and blueberries at 59 cents a pint.

A three-bedroom house in the western section, as well ns a three-bedroom in Princeton Township, were being advertised in the $60,000 range. A three-bedroom house in the Township could be rented for $375 per month.

The Central New Jersey Chapter of NOW presented a bicentennial program, "Forgotten Women of the Revolution," on the Palmer Square green in front of the Nassau Inn.

After eight years of planning and building, the first half dozen families moved into Princeton Community Village. The first arrivals in were Dennis Sullivan, his wife, and two children.

Conte's, of the Princeton Adult Softball League, won the Angeloni's Invitational Tournament when it swept five games without a loss in the two-day event.

Conte's Jerry Perpetua was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

25 Yeors Ago

Merger of the Borough and Township Schools was the center of discussion throughout the summer. Except for the Friends of Public Education, the merger question produced no organized groups, for or against.

In May, the Borough Board of Education decided to schedule a monthly question-and-answer session through October, when the referendum was scheduled. It also appointed a committee to study the problems of Borough pupil distribution under a regionalized school system.

The Borough School Board also weighed another question: whether to follow the suggestion of the Borough Safety Council and ban student cars at the high school.

When Township Committee introduced ordinances changing Oakland Street to Hickory Court and Hillside Road to Loomis Court, it was told, "it's just like you go home and find a new wife."

A number of Princeton residents were reported serving in Viet Nam. Two had already been wounded in action, one seriously.

An irate letter from a Wiggins Street resident said "Princeton cyclists are worse (yes!) than Princeton motorists in their disregard for traffic laws. Rarely do they stop at stop signs. As a rule of thumb they stop at red lights only when they would be forced to cross a steady stream of traffic — but not when they can squeeze around the corner right or left, in the latter case traveling on the wrong side of the road."

A four-bedroom house on a tree-lined street in the Borough could be yours for $25,500. On Patton Avenue, a prewar three-bedroom house, "with spectacular grounds," could be had for $45,000.

Looking for something to do? Dr. No and From Russia with Love were playing at the Playhouse; The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders could be seen at the Garden; The Princeton Ballet Society was performing Sleeping Beauty at McCarter ($3.95 tops), and the Shrine Circus was on its way to the Trenton Fairgrounds.

Over at Davidson's, turkeys were going for 45 cents a pound; coffee at 79 cents a one-pound can, chickens at 39 cents a pound, and a quart of orange juice for 29 cents.

The Cellar, next to Davidson's, was offering a 1964 Piat Pinot Chardonnay at $1.59 and a 1961 Langenbach Graacher Himmelreich at $2.99.

An ad for an experienced secretary offered $2 an hour, while Spanish lessons were being offered at "moderate rates, furnished on inquiry."

35 Years Ago

Princeton suffered through the hottest July on record, with temperatures reaching 90 degrees or better on 17 out of the 31 days; the average temperature was a shade above 80 degrees.

Princeton University, battling to save campus trees, used root-feeders to water underground, where one gallon of water does the work of ten. All the water used for this purpose was being trucked from Carnegie Lake in a 400-gallon tank cart.

Hoff Gas & Fuel Company, Alexander Street, advised that this was the time to buy its Reading anthracite coal. "Buy now .. Save .. Summer Prices," read its ad.

Davidson's, which advertised, "You don't have to dress up to shop here at Davidson's," offered smoked hams at 39 cents a pound, plums at 19 cents a pound, and three pot pies for 70 cents.

Over at Bamberger's, at the Princeton Shopping Center, a permanent wave could be had for as little as $12.50. Hair cuts began at $2. The Rialto Barber Shop, at 16 Witherspoon Street, advertised expert hair cutting at 85 cents.

Grover Lumber was offering a modular house that could be owner-finished. Less energetic types might have wanted to see a six-room colonial on a well-planned lot for $24,500, or an eight-room Colonial in the western section for $43,500.

Princetonians watched as the old St. Paul's church was razed. It was to be replaced by a new church, convent and rectory. The bells and steeple of the old church were to be used in the new.

Another landmark was set to pass from the scene as Lenox Library, a 111-year-old structure, was scheduled to be replaced by a new library at Princeton Theological Seminary. The new Speer Memorial Library had received long-awaited approval at a recent meeting of Borough Council.

The Princeton and Plainsboro Lions Clubs were to play, or perform, donkey basketball on the Princeton High School field. The ball game is played from the backs of trained donkeys.

The Princeton Community Players were offering one of Moliere's most famous comedies, The Doctor in Spite of Himself, in the Murray Theatre on the University campus. Tickets were $1 Monday through Thursday and $2 Friday and Saturday.

observed by a pool employee around 3 in the afternoon, after he had parked his car outside the cinderblock men's bathroom. There is a five-inch gap between the outside wall and the concrete floor.

Later, according to Lt. Mario Musso, two pool employees observed Quattrone outside the complex fence with an unzipped grey bag in his possession and a hand-held video camera inside. They saw him looking underneath the partition through the gap and notified police.

When Ptl. Ernest Silagyi and Ptl. Scott Walter arrived, they saw the suspect sitting on the ground, which slopes away from the outside wall of the shower room, looking under the partition, allegedly watching and filming boys inside as they showered. When the officers saw Quattrone starting to leave in a grey Chrysler, they stopped his car shortly after 6 p.m.. Inside was the grey bag and the video camera.

Police confiscated the camera and ran the tape through a VCR at police headquarters. Lt. Musso reported that the footage showed some nude youths inside the locker room. Quattrone was placed under arrest and charged.

According to Prosecutor Hand, previously recorded film in the video camera showed panty-clad and nude babies and young boys.

Zoning Violations

month, were available at 5 Greenholm was provided last year to Princeton University to include in its listing of available rooms, said Mr. Burns.

The court appearance was originally scheduled for August 6. Attorney John F. McCarthy III, bowever, asked for a postponement until September 10 to allow Mr. and Mrs. White to return.

At the Thursday Zoning Board meeting, representatives of the Nassau Foundation are expected to appeal Zoning Officer Frank Slimak's ruling that they have violated Borough zoning ordinances by converting a single-family house to a rooming/boarding house.

Mr. Slimak is expected to point out that the State Department of Community Affairs (DCA) described 34 Mercer Street as a boarding house after Luis Tellez, director of Mercer House, filled out a form saying that eight men affiliated with Opus Dei were living there.

"Mr. Tellez disputed the finding with the DCA," said Mr. Burns, who added that DCA inspectors had attempted to go into the house two times, but had found no one home.

Mr. Tellez has asserted that Opus Dei centers, such as Mercer House, are residences where members live in the functional equivalent of a family unit. Opus Dei is a worldwide Catholic prelature which provides spiritual instruction to lay persons.

The house was owned by Emily Stuart until her murder a year and a half ago, and bought by Opus Dei in October, 1989. It is situated in the R-3 zone, whicb — like the R-1 zone in which 5 Greenholm is located — permits rental of two rooms to four people.

In June, Mr. Slimak refused a permit to The Nassau Foundation to build an oratory in the den and study of 34 Mercer Street. He cited the outstanding zoning violation.

Mayor Clarifies Stand On Township Deer Hunt

Township Mayor Kate Litvack has written a letter to Herman and Ruth Spitz of 389 Terbune Road, clarifying her position on deer hunting. The letter is in answer to a letter by Mr. and Mrs. Spitz to the mayor opposing hunting in a residential area which was published in the August 15 TOWN TOPICS.

Mayor Litvack writes, "Please be assured that I don't favor deer hunting on land between Terhune Road and the Princeton Shopping Center. Nor do I believe that any member of Township Committee supports the idea of deer hunting there."

The idea of allowing bow hunting for deer on Township-owned lands during the regular bow season surfaced at a Township Committee meeting on August 6, when Committeeman Tom Poole reported that he had learned from members of the Environmental Commission's Ad Hoc Deer Committee of the existence of a band of deer that were finding a haven on the vacant land at the north end of the Shopping Center. Deer have been seen on Harrison Street and Terhune Road in larger numbers than before, Mr. Poole reported. He said the Ad Hoc Committee would be asking Township Committee for permission to hunt deer on Township-owned property.

It turns out that Peggy McNeill, chairman of the Princeton Environmental Commission, sent a formal request last February to Mayor Litvack requesting permission for bow hunting on specified Township properties. The Township-owned property north of the Shopping Center was not one of these properties, and the request was not discussed at a Township Committee meeting at the time.

Properties Specified

The properties mentioned were the trolley right of way near the Johnson Park School; tracts north of the Puritan Court cul-de-sac; tracts north of Community Park North, including the 75 acres that is the Mountain Lakes Nature Preserve; a section along the canal specified only by lot number but probably including the Township's Turning Basin Park; and tracts adjacent to the Sewer Operating Committee land.

The total acreage specified in this request is 342 acres. The Environmental Commission writes that there were 196 deer-car collisions reported in Princeton Township in 1989, with two of these causing human injury. The request also says "deer damage to woodlands, crops, gardens and shrubbery remains unacceptably high, damaging habitat for wildlife such as pheasants and other ground-nesting birds. It also cites the dramatic increase of Lyme disease over the past years and the fact that many deer inhabited areas are closed to hunting, thus "obstructing herd reduction."

Ms. McNeill asks Township Committee to consider allowing bow hunting for deer on certain Township lands for a specified portion of the legal bow hunting season — such as this fall. Hunters could be required to use elevated stands and perhaps to hunt specified lands on weekdays only, she writes. Results could be evaluated at the end of the season, and future arrangements changed as deemed worthwile.

Ms. McNeill also suggests on behalf of the Environmental Commission that Township Committee consider petitioning Mercer County to allow bow hunting for deer in Herrontown Woods (134 acres). She volunteers the assistance of the members of the deer subcommittee in explaining the program to owners of land adjoining the Township lands that would be hunted.

ART

Exhibits

Artworks will open its first annual faculty and student exhibit on Friday, September 7, at Artworks in Trenton. The faculty exhibit will be in the Main Gallery and the student exhibit in the Hallway Gallery. The reception is free and open to the public from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

The exhibit includes a variety of work. Mediums represented are watercolor, oil, sculpture, acrylic, enamel, printmaking and pastel.

Faculty represented include Marie Sturken, Linda Lombardi, Geri DePaoli, Margaret Kennard Johnson, Stephen Kennedy, Jane Eccles and Jacques Fabert. More than 60 students from throughout New Jersey are also presenting their work.

Artworks is located at 19 Everett Alley, Trenton, opposite the Motor Vehicle Services Building, at the Market Street exit of Route 1. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 11 to 5. Call for current evening hours.

For additional information and a free brochure, call 394-9436.

An exhibit featuring watercolors by Harriet J. Kaftanic will open at the Medical Center at Princeton's dining room on Friday, September 21, at 4 p.m. with a wine and cheese reception. The show will run until November 15.

She has exhibited in juried shows of the Garden State Watercolor Society, Mercer County College, Phillips Mill, and the Princeton and Tri County Art Associations.

Artists from the Johnson Atelier Technical Institute of Sculpture in Mercerville will present a juried exhibition, "Drawings - Transformation - Sculpture," at the Rider College Student Center Art Gallery from Thursday, October 18, through Friday, November 9.

An opening reception will be held October 18 from 4 to 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Artists featured in the exhibit will be James Barton, Robert Dougherty, Mauro Fainguelernt, Gyuri Hollosy, Joe Howard, Jon Lash, Victor Letonoff, Garret McFann, and Andrzej Pitynski.

Gallery hours are Mondays through Thursdays, noon to 8 p.m., and Fridays through Sundays, 1 to 5 p.m.

The Gallery at Palmer Square will hold an extensive showing of contemporary art, featuring ten nationally known artists. The show, which will run from October 13 through November 5, will begin with an opening reception at the gallery on Saturday, October 13, from 12 to 5 p.m., and also on Sunday, October 14, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Works have been gathered from institutions and exhibitions all over the country. The artists' choice of medium is varied, and includes watercolor, monoprint, and assemblage, as well as many mixed media in a wide variety of palettes.

The gallery is located at 23 Palmer Square. Hours are Monday through Wednesday and Saturday from 10 to 6, Thursday and Friday from 10 to 8, and Sunday from 12 to 5.

Trenton State College's faculty exhibition will open on September 12 and continue through October 10. The show will include printmaking, painting, sculpture, ceramics, photography, drawing, watercolor, computer graphics and jewelry.

There will be an opening day reception in the Holman Hall Art Gallery from 3 to 5 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, noon to 3 p.m.; Thursday, 7 to 9 p.m.; and Sunday, 1 to 3 p.m.

OBITUARIES

Roger B. Kirkpatrick, 80, died August 22 at home.

Born in Jamesburg, Mr. Kirkpatrick lived in Princeton since 1940. He graduated from Princeton Preparatory School in 1930 and Princeton University cum laude in 1934. A veteran of World War II, he served in the South Pacific as a captain in the Marine Corps.

Mr. Kirkpatrick's business career was spent with the Container Corporation of America, and he worked in offices in New Brunswick, Philadelphia and New York. He retired in 1975 at the age of 65 as general sales manager of the company's Eastern Division.

He was a member of the Nassau Club and the Nassau Gun Club, and a founding member of Bedens Brook Club. He was also a member of the Princeton Club of New York. Recognized for his generous contributions to the Princeton Class of 1934, Mr. Kirkpatrick was class agent from 1949 to 1954, class president from 1954 to 1959 and head of special gifts solicitation for the 50th reunion of the class in 1983-84.

Surviving are his wife, Nancy; three sons, Alexander of Denver, Peter of Ashland, Ore., and Stuart of New York City; six grandchildren, and a brother, Malcomb S. of Jamesburg.

A memorial service was held Monday at Princeton University Chapel. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer County Area, 437 East State Street, Trenton 08608.

Louise D. Carson, 84, died August 26 at Princeton Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center.

Born in Hightstown, Mrs. Carson lived in Princeton since 1940. She retired in 1969 after more than 25 years as a secretary with the Princeton Board of Education.

Wife of the late D. Allen Carson and sister of the late Bernice Hansen, she is survived by two nephews, Joseph A. Hansen of Wayside and J. Herbert Hansen of Oakhurst.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday, August 29, at 11 at Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, the Rev. William H. Jacobsen, assistant pastor of the Princeton United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hightstown.

Meta Kirsipu, 87, died August 26 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Estonia, Mrs. Kirsipu was a resident of Princeton since 1956. She was a retired library assistant at Princeton University and a member of the Estonian Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Paul in New York City.

Roger B. Kirkpatrick

Wife of the late Theodore K. Kirsipu, she is survived by several cousins in Sweden.

A graveside service will be held Thursday at 1 in Princeton Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Robert B. Cook, a Princeton resident from 1962 to 1987, died August 24 in Sonoma, Calif.

A veteran of World War II serving in the Navy in the Pacific, Mr. Cook graduated from MIT in 1948 and was a textile executive with the Celanese Corporation until the middle 1970s. He originated permanent press handkerchiefs. He became a stockbroker and stamp dealer in his semi-retirement and was active in the Republican Party organization in Princeton.

Surviving are his former wife, Sheila W. Hart of Princeton and New Fairfield, Conn.; three sons, Kenneth B. Cook II of Castro Valley, Cal., Commander Robert B. Cook Jr., U.S.N., of Summerville, S.C., and William W. Cook of Hillsborough; a daughter, Amy Cook Gavin of Los Altos, Cal.; and three grandchildren, Jessica F. Cook, Robert B. Cook III and Sam W. Gavin.

Cremation was held in California, with interment at Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, Concord, Mass.

Matilda B. Nini, 77, died August 23 at her son's home in Montgomery Township.

Born in South River, Mrs. Nini was a Princeton resident for more than 60 years. She retired in 1982 after more than 25 years as a switchboard operator and receptionist for Gallup and Robinson of Princeton.

Widow of Frank Nini, she is survived by a son and daughter, Frank A. Jr., and Camille, both of Skillman; two sisters, Claire Fisher Rumbel and Ceal Klivan, both of New Brunswick; and several nieces and nephews.

The service was held from the Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, and Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Church.

Burial was in the parish cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Home Care/Hospice Program, c/o Princeton Medical Center, 253 Witherspoon Street, Princeton 08540.

Unitarian Church Service To Feature Storyteller

The Unitarian Church of Princeton will begin the new church year with a family service featuring storyteller Susan Danoff at 10 a.m. on Sunday, September 9. Ms. Danoff will share several stories relating to faith and the triumph of the human spirit.

Ms. Danoff has been teaching storytelling to Princeton University undergraduates since 1986. She has taught in the English Department at Princeton University since 1983, and each summer she teaches a week-long intensive storytelling institute at the University. Having developed an extensive repertoire of international folktales, she has also performed in many schools, libraries, and museums including the Smithsonian, The Detroit Institute of Arts, The Geraldine R. Dodge Poetry Festival, and the 92nd Street Y.

The Sunday service will be preceded by a family pancake breakfast and fall registration for religious education classes at 8:30 a.m.

Princeton Jewish Center Plans Holiday Services

Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur will be observed by the members of The Jewish Center at religious services conducted by Rabbi Melvin J. Glazer and Cantor Robert Freedman. Rosh Hashana begins Wednesday, September 19, with the Evening Service starting at 6:30. Morning Services for the New Year 5751 are Thursday and Friday, September 20 and 21 at 8:30 a.m.

Kol Nidre begins on Friday, September 28 at 6:30 p.m. Yom Kippur Services will start the morning of Saturday, September 29 at 8:30.

High Holiday Children's Services will be held on Thursday, September 20 at 10 a.m. and Saturday, September 29 at 2:30 p.m.

In commenting on the sacred days of Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur, Rabbi Glazer, spiritual leader of The Jewish Center, noted: "These days are especially important in the Jewish religious calendar because on them we are to engage in serious personal examination and introspection."

Further information about tickets for nonmembers, membership, congregational activities and Religious School programs can be obtained by calling 921-0100.

The Blawenburg Reformed Church, Route 518 in Montgomery Township, will hold its annual Roast Beef Dinner on Saturday, September 22. Seatings will begin at 5 p.m. and are first-come, first-served. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Adults, $8, children under 12, $5, and children under 5, free.

The family-style dinner includes tomato juice cocktail, roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, peas, harvard beets, pepper hash, rolls, butter, coffee and homemade apple pie.

Temple Micah, Reform Congregation in Lawrenceville, has announced registration for its Fall 1990 Religious School. Subjects include the Bible, Jewish History, Holidays, Ethics and the Hebrew Language.

Classes start in September and are held on Wednesdays from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. For additional information, call evenings at 921-6708 or Temple Micah information service at 921-1128.

STORIES FOR ALL AGES: Storyteller Susan Danoff will share several stories at the Unitarian Church of Princeton, Sunday, September 9. "When they are told, stories have the magical quality of bringing teller and listeners together in spirit and imagination," explains Ms. Danoff.

The Princeton Church of Christ singles group, Central Jersey Singles, meets on the first and third weekends of each month.

Fall activities include a canoe trip down the Delaware on Saturday, September 8. Cost is $12. For reservations, call 201-281-7531 by September 1.

Also scheduled is an historical tour of Philadelphia on Saturday, September 22. For more information call 201-281-7531; 609-443-6271; or 609-924-2555.

Princeton Church of Christ is hosting a free Divorce Recovery Workshop on Friday, September 14, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at 33 River Road. The workshop is a community service designed to meet the special needs of those experiencing divorce.

Mike Nyquist will be the guest preacher during Sunday's 8:15 a.m. Prince of Peace Lutheran Church service in Princeton Junction. Robin Hoffman will lead the worship and the anthem.

Pastor Margaret Payne will lead the worship and preach the sermon during the 9:30 a.m. service.

Baby sitting is provided during both services, and a coffee fellowship follows the 9:30 a.m. service. All are welcome. For further information, call 799-1753.

Nassau Presbyterian Church will hold its homecoming on Sunday, September 9.

In addition to the regular 10 a.m. service, activities for the 1990-91 year will be announced. These will include new events such as a trip to the Gettysburg Battlefield with James McPherson, the Pulitzer Prize winning author of Battle Cry of Freedom, on Saturday, September 29.

A "Know Your Church Fair" will be held at 11 a.m., on Homecoming Sunday, during which members and visitors will be able to sign up for volunteer opportunities, church classes, trips and special events. A booklet of volunteer opportunities, special events and activities will be distributed to members and is also available to nonmembers by calling the church at 924-0103.

The fair will be followed by a chicken dinner on the church grounds witb homemade desserts contributed by members.

Summer worship at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church is at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, September 2. The Rev. David M. Joynt will preach.

No Sunday School is offered during the summer months, but nursery care during worship is available.

The church is both air conditioned and wheelchair accessible.

The Unitarian Church will hold services on Sunday at 10 a.m. The sermon topic is "Summer Jazz," and a musical program will be led by Sonia Shainheit, Jeff Presslaff and Ferdi Serim.

Brunch will be served after the service, and visitors and newcomers are welcome.

Church school is not in session, but childcare is available.
